ABOUT ME

I am a highly motivated and dedicated learner with a strong passion for cybersecurity, artificial intelligence, and front-end development. Over the past few years, I have completed multiple professional certifications, including the Google Cybersecurity Certificate and the Meta Front-End Developer Certificate, which have equipped me with practical skills in Python, Linux, SQL, React, and secure coding practices.

Beyond technical skills, I actively seek challenges that allow me to apply my knowledge in real-world scenarios. I enjoy problem-solving, learning new technologies, and contributing to projects that make a positive impact. My curiosity, discipline, and consistent pursuit of excellence drive me to constantly improve and adapt in rapidly evolving tech environments.

I am eager to join Innopolis University, where I can further develop my expertise, collaborate with like-minded peers, and contribute meaningfully to research and innovation in cybersecurity and software development.
